Personable and soft-spoken, Dr. Bogdan easily connects with his patients: "I take the time to listen and to educate my patients. We discuss their goals, what it will take to attain the results they seek, the risks involved, and then we explore the different treatment options. Once we have come to a full understanding, together we are able to develop the best treatment plan."

Dr. Bogdan combines surgical skill and attention to detail with artistry to create incredibly natural-looking results. His credentials and academic accomplishments are equally impressive. Dr. Bogdan is one of few plastic surgeons in the country who have undergone formal post-graduate training in aesthetic surgery.
